Anniversaries

It was a crisp winter morning on January 13th 1913, when some Calgarians, living near the city's southern outskirts, made their way to a new basement church, for the first service at the Christ Church, Elbow Park. Since then, the congregation have celebrated the anniversary of that first service every 25 years, each time with increasingly elaborate events. Generally, the celebrations have included: 1) Special Services, Attended by Former Clergy. 2) Social Gatherings with Music and Speeches of Reminiscence and Tribute. 3) Musical Concerts. 4) Photographic Displays of Former Times. 5) Dedications of New Additions to the Church Fabric.

25th Anniversary 1938: Two stained-glass windows were unveiled, one given by the 489 persons so far baptized at CC, and the second by the 518 confirmed.

50th Anniversary 1963: A 24-page history booklet 'Harvest of the Years' was published. We have some copies on hand.

60th Anniversary 1972: Featured a commemorative dinner at the Palliser Hotel.

75th Anniversary 1988: A Memorial Scholarship was established in honour of our own distinguished Theology Professor, Peter Craigie, who had recently died in a car accident. The wooden cross above the Altar was installed in his memory, moving the Communion rail towards the nave, and some charitable donations were all accomplished with this fund. There was also a quiet morning with the Primate.

100th Anniversary. 2012/3: This lasted a whole year. The new Crump room provided a lovely setting for many of the events. The opening service, featured a procession with representation of each generation, including centenarian, Rubina Moody. To recreate the first service, the church was rearranged to reflect 1913. Clergy choir and parishioners wore period costume, and the liturgy from the 1662 prayer book was used. Premier Alison Redford, MP Joan Crockett and Mayor Naheed Nenshi attended a Centennial weekend. A donated original painting of CC by Grant Reddick, of Christmas Carol fame, was auctioned, which the purchaser gave back to CC. Subsequently, reproductions of that painting, together with souvenir Christmas tree ornaments, were sold. Other centennial activities included a bake sale, church tours, a historical walk of Elbow Park, three special concerts, a benefit golf tournament and the creation of three 100-square shawls, for church use. The legacy project was the Labyrinth, largely constructed by 40 volunteers and surrounded by a Tranquility Garden. A mission statement was created for the next 100 years around the five Anglican Marks of Mission, and the year concluded with a quarter peal of the bells.
